

Chris Jagger

acoustic guitar, harp, occasional washboard and lead vocals

Chris Jagger made two records for Billy Gaff and David Geffen in the 1970's. Since 1994 he has recorded 4 albums containing strong and original songs. Forget the comparisons, his ability as a singer, frontman and writer cannot be doubted and 2009 finds him busier than ever. Chris works with his band 'Atcha!' and sometimes with smaller acoustic lineups, when not engaged in rural pursuits and writing songs.

Charlie Hart

fiddle, accordion, keyboards, bass instruments, vocals

Inspired by blues, jazz and African music, he has worked with Alexis Korner, Ian Dury, Ronnie Lane, Eric Clapton and Charlie Watts. He produced Orchestra Virunga and Diz and the Doormen, composed music for the Oscar-nominated animated film Triangle and appeared in the feature film Stormy Monday. Besides working with Chris and the band, Charlie is currently concentrating on producing roots and jazz artists in his own Equator Studios, London.
